

CUTHBERT LAB

NAVIGATING TOWARD HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Riley Martens is a Registered Nurse who completed his Bachelors at the University of Calgary. He is now doing his Masters in Community Health Sciences. Riley has contributed to multiple projects with a focus on online peer support, young women with breast cancer, and the impact of COVID-19 on nursing education.

His interests in digital health and oncology have led him to pursue more education to further integrate research into his career.